This pump shotgun benefits from an extendable stock and a pair of folding flip-up type sights (riser + front sight).

With its adjustable stock, its lightweight Ergal 55 frame, its flip-up type folding sights and its heat sink on the barrel, the Fabarm SDASS Pro Telescopic Stage 2 shotgun has a tactical look and offers an effective solution and versatile, both for sports shooting and for law enforcement.

Chambered in caliber 12/76, the Fabarm SDASS Pro telescopic Stage 2 is equipped with a barrel tested at 1630 bars. This allows it to fire lead substitute cartridges (steel, zinc or nickel balls) if you shoot near wet areas.

Struck with the Tribore emblem, the barrel sports a unique design which aims to improve both the internal and external ballistics of shots.

This method involves the use of an extended connecting cone upstream of an oversized barrel, aiming to minimize friction and recoil. A second conical section will follow, reducing the internal diameter of the assembly to create a Venturi effect. This narrowing results in increasing the flow speed of the stream while decreasing the internal pressure. This results in an increase in the kinetic energy of the projectile thanks to an acceleration at the muzzle of the gun.
